

Company Profile:

Karma studios is a game-development company located in the Netherlands. We are specialized in so called "pocket development", which simply means we're experts in developing for portable videogame platforms such as the Gameboy Color, Gameboy Advance, Pocket PC and mobile phones.

All our employees have years of experience in the game industry and have worked on many projects on various platforms in the past. Because of this experience, and our broad range of tools, its possible to develop great looking games in a short timescale.

Just take a look at our current titles and past projects we have worked on.

What we can offer you:

- A solid portfolio of games for every kind of genre.
- A broad support for the different handsets (including all major Nokia, Motorola, Samsung and Sony-Ericsson handsets)
- Multi language support, including; English, French, German, Dutch, Spanish and Italian.
- Up to date with the latest handsets.
- High quality game graphics

License work:

Because of years of experience in the game industry, we have a lot of inhouse knowledge about developing fast and solid games in a short timescale and for every kind of budget (both fixed fee and revenueshare based).

Past license based projects include "Max magazine", "TMF/MTV Networks" and "A-Film" (for their movie "Snow fever").

We are looking for:

- Mobile phone operators
- Localized distribution partners with a good distribution network.
- Brands / License-based work
- Retail opportunities
